

PASIA Welcomes New Executive Director

Manila, Philippines -- Charlie Villaseñor, Chairman of the Procurement and Sourcing Institute of Asia (PASIA) is pleased to announce the appointment of Denis H. Nixon as Executive Director of PASIA effective on September 15, 2011

"The appointment of Denis Nixon comes at a time when PASIA has entered into expanded agreement with ISM (Institute for Supply Management) to deliver their internationally accepted courses and certification throughout Asia. In addition PASIA is launching a Global Ethics in Procurement and Supply Management Certification program in the last quarter of 2011" said Mr. Villaseñor

"PASIA is also introducing a corporate membership package for the first time, which will allow companies to benefit from the many services and educational offerings of PASIA" he added.

"The opportunities for growth for PASIA with the partnership with ISM and the Ethics program as well as the new offering of Corporate membership makes PASIA an exciting place to be at this time", said Denis Nixon., "My task is to operationalize these endeavors and to increase the number of companies that are developing their professional procurement and supply management capabilities. Asia is expected to be 2/3rds of the world economy by 2019 and the need for Certified Ethical Procurement and Supply Management companies to profit from that growth is now paramount." says Denis Nixon when asked about his new position.

Denis Nixon is a South African born, Canadian. He was previously a Senior Vice President with Bank of Montreal before moving into consultancy in the field of Corporate performance improvement. He has practiced in UK, Ireland, Germany, Holland, Canada, USA and the Philippines.

"The appointment of Denis Nixon allows me to focus more time on my board obligations with the International Federation for Procurement and Supply Management headquartered in Europe and the international promotion of the Ethics Certification program in Procurement and Supply Management." Said Mr. Villaseñor.
